Leathernecks Hit Rice Area

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Several thousand U.S. Marines opened a new search operation today in the rice paddies overlooking the South China Sea, while Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs caught a dozen trucks near the entrance to North Viet Nam's landslide-clogged Mu Gia Pass.

The Leathernecks killed 14 Viet Cong, captured five and took 67 suspects in tow at the outset of a multibattalion search and destroy operation 23 miles south of Chu Lai. The area has been in Viet Cong hands for years.

Ten Marines stripped to the waist and moved with pistols and flashlights through a network of tunnels where they seized 15 Vietnamese suspected of being Viet Cong. Some pajama-clad fighters were seen fleeing the maze beneath the hamlet of An Hai a short time before.

The Air Force jets returned Wednesday to the strategic pass on the Laotian frontier, 230 miles south of Hanoi, where B52s dropped 1.4 million pounds of bombs on Tuesday in the first raid by the stratofortresses on North Viet Nam. Military sources in Washington said some of the big bombs were rigged with delayed-action devices to explode days later, thereby discouraging Communist road clearing work.

The Thunderchiefs spotted 12 trucks on Route 15 at the entrance to the bottled-up pass. At least four were destroyed, an Air Force spokesman said. He also said aerial photographs confirmed that the pass was completely blocked by landslides.

The mountain roadway links up with the Ho Chi Minh Trail in neighboring Laos, the major infiltration route to South Viet Nam.

Von Luckner Is Dead At 84, Was WWI 'Sea Devil'

MALMOE, Sweden (AP) — Count Felix Von Luckner, who sank 14 Allied ships in World War I without taking a life, is dead at 84.

Von Luckner's death Wednesday of an undisclosed illness ended a life of daring that earned him fame as the "Sea Devil."

During the World War I he commanded an innocent-looking windjammer which carried concealed guns and a powerful motor. Masquerading as a Norwegian freighter, Von Luckner's Seeadler (Sea Eagle) scuttled 14 million worth of Allied ships.

Visited U.P.

Count Luckner visited the Upper Peninsula in 1931. At that time he also cruised on Lake Superior in Commander Eugene F. McDonald's yacht Mispah. Von Luckner admitted he became sea-sick on Superior's rough waters, a first time for him.

but he took their crews — and even their pets — off first and looked after them until he could put them ashore.

"I broke the British blockade with a clear conscience," he said. "No mother, wife, child or father lost a tear."

His ship roamed the Atlantic and Pacific with a 64-man crew, 27 of whom spoke Norwegian. Since Norwegian captains customarily took their wives with them on voyages, he disguised a 16-year-old boy as a girl to pose as his wife.

After sailing 35,000 miles, the Seeadler was wrecked on a South Sea coral reef in August 1917. Von Luckner and five of his crew sailed a lifeboat loaded with ammunition for 48 days to the Fiji Islands, where they hoped to seize another ship. Instead a British police officer and several native policemen captured them.

The British sent him to New Zealand, but he escaped in a motorboat and during six weeks of freedom seized a small sailing vessel. A British cruiser recaptured him and he spent the rest of the war in New Zealand.

Between the world wars he conducted cruises and lectured in several countries, including the United States. Lowell Thomas wrote two books about him: "Count Luckner, The Sea Devil" and "The Sea Devil's Fo'c's'le."

The World War I hero was too old (60) to be of use to sail for Germany during World War II. After the war he said he fell into disfavor with the Nazis when he refused requests to renounce membership in the Free Masons and honorary citizenships that had been conferred on him by Bermuda, San Francisco, Miami and North Dakota.

Von Luckner said he spent the latter part of the war hiding in the Hartz Mountains. Von Luckner was married in 1924 to Ingeborg Vonengstroem, a wealthy owner of Swedish woolen mills. They made their home at her family castle outside Malmoe. They had no children.

Mystery Calls Cost Him $1,000

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Louis E. DeWitt says 378 calls the telephone company said he made are mysteries to him.

De Witt told the Public Utilities Commission he paid the General Telephone Co. $1,000 for 378 calls too many last year.

He said the calls — to bars, restaurants and residential and business establishments — were not made by either him or his family.

A PUC examiner completed his hearings on the complaint Wednesday and said a recommendation would be made to the commission on a possible settlement.

Witnesses said the unidentified motorist got out of his car, grabbed the boys and scolded them for running into the street. Then he drove away.

Moments later, witnesses said, the boys ran into the street again. This time, both were struck and killed by a second car. The driver was not held.

President Aref Of Iraq Killed In Plane Crash

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — President Abdel Salam Aref of Iraq, who survived repeated violent political upheavals in the past eight years, was killed Wednesday night in the crash of his helicopter 20 minutes after taking off from a political rally near Basra, Baghdad Radio announced.

The Iraqi Radio said Interior Minister Maj. Gen. Abdel Latif Daraji and Industry Minister Mustafa Abdullah also were killed in the crash near the Persian Gulf port.

Ten persons were aboard the helicopter, and all died in the crash, the radio said. Among them were the governor of Basra Province and the secretary-general of the presidential palace staff. All were burned beyond recognition except Aref.

Premier Abdel Rahman Bazzaz will be acting president until the Council of Ministers and the National Defense Council elect Aref's successor within a week, the broadcast said.

Brother May Succeed

The councils are composed mostly of ranking army officers. Aref's brother, Gen. Abdel Rahman Aref, is chief of staff of the army and had been considered a possible successor to the presidency. The general is in Moscow as the head of a visiting military delegation.

Diplomatic observers in London said Aref's death seemed likely to set off furious political infighting, and perhaps worse, over the succession. Baghdad Radio said a curfew had been proclaimed from noon today until further notice. It asked the people "to be steadfast in the face of this national disaster."

Aref was 45. Since the military made him president in February 1963, he had maintained a precarious dominance over his country's bitterly feuding political and religious factions.

Signed Nasser Pact

A Pan-Arab group wants Iraq to unite with President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic while a rival nationalist faction is against giving poverty-stricken Egypt access to Iraq's huge oil revenue.

While Aref favored union with Egypt and once signed a military cooperation pact with Nasser, the Egyptian president in recent years has reacted cautiously toward such a move. The two agreed it should be carried out over a long period of time but little was done to achieve it.

Claim Michigan State U Provided Cover For CIA

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University was charged today with having provided a front for Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) operatives in Viet Nam.

But a spokesman for the university indicated the school was an innocent dupe.

The charge was made in an article in the monthly magazine Ramparts, which added MSU also bought guns and ammunition for security forces during the regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem, who later was deposed and slain.

Branding the article as "full of distortion and plain fabrication," an MSU official said the university's Viet Nam project was undertaken merely to provide advice for setting up police organizations and establishing a civil service program.

Not Knowingly

"We did not knowingly hire any CIA men — and when we found out about their role, we dropped them," said James Denison, director of university relations and assistant to MSU president John Hannah.

Denison denied guns and ammunition were purchased by MSU for the Vietnamese government. However, in its capacity as advisor, the university sometimes made recommendations on what equipment might be needed by security forces, he said.

MSU's international programs have ranged around the world in such countries as Nigeria, Turkey, Brazil and Okinawa.

Most of the overseas operations are designed to help governments in getting started on educational projects such as agricultural planning, police administration and school programs.

ICC Never Complained

The magazine said by advising the Diem government on police and security measures, MSU violated the 1954 Geneva agreement which limited the military capability of both North and South Viet Nam.

But Dr. Ralph Smuckler, acting dean of the university's international programs, commented: "The International Control Commission (ICC) is the enforcement agency for the Geneva agreement. The ICC was aware of what we were doing in Viet Nam and never filed any complaints."

It also proposed removing power from the State Board of Education to grant money for building projects at the two-year schools.

Eugene Mlynck, a federal mediator, said ship terminal operators and Longshoremen had reached agreement in an all-night bargaining session. Operations are to resume today.

The agreement is subject to ratification tonight by members of Local 815 of the International Longshoremen's Association and approval by the Great Lakes District Wage Policy Committee of the IILA.

The tentative three-year pact calls for three 15-cent an hour wage increases and 20-cents per hour in fringe benefits.

Mlynck said the union had given the employers written assurance there would be no strike before May 1 even if the agreement is not ratified.

Because of the contract dispute the Ghana ship, Pra River, first foreign vessel to arrive in Milwaukee this season, was unable to unload its cargo here Monday and proceeded to Chicago. Its owners warned an extended port shutdown might cause vessels to stop "calling regularly at Milwaukee."

SENATE PASSES Minimum Wage

LANSING (AP) — A minimum wage bill, which has prompted heated debate and the only known "sleep-in" in recorded State Capitol history — passed the House quietly Wednesday.

The measure, which broadens the coverage of the minimum wage law, passed and was sent to the Senate on a 66-32 vote. It still would be buried deep on a long House calendar of legislation if majority Democrats had not given it preferential treatment Tuesday. They moved it up from the No. 128 spot for preliminary debate.

Chief features of the bill would: —Extend coverage to every employer who operates 10 weeks a year, as opposed to the current law which, for all practical purposes, exempts a worker from coverage for the first 13 weeks of employment; —Limit the amount an employer can deduct from the minimum wage for gratuities from 40 per cent to 25 per cent of the total;

—Allow the state labor director to investigate complaints and prosecute for failure to comply with the law, while the current law allows the worker to file suit; —Divorces the state wage standard from the federal law. The measure, however, does not affect the wage floor itself. The state is in the second year of a three-year step program; the minimum wage now stands at $1.15 per hour and will go to $1.25 next Jan. 1.

Chairman Lane Describes Hike As Too Great

LANSING (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee proposed a $15 million boost in higher education spending over Gov. George Romney's recommendations today but there were indications the figure would be scaled down by next week.

The proposal of $203.6 million was branded too high by appropriations committee Chairman Garland Lane, D-Flint.

Other committee members indicated privately they expected it would be reduced by about $5 million to $8 million.

The committee, which took testimony from university officials several weeks ago, drafted its proposals by informal discussion. The bill now officially is referred to committee for formal action, expected next week.

Sens. Edward Robinson, D-Deerborn; Roger Craig, D-Deerborn; Jan Vanderploeg, D-North Muskegon, and Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, led the drive for higher appropriations.

Less Than Asked

The recommendations still all were less than the institutions had asked.

Lane said the committee used the "finished product" theory of budgeting, basing figures on an over-all cost of so much per fiscal year equated student.

The levels used to write the bill were $800 for Central, Eastern, Western, Northern and Ferris; $1,200 for Grand Valley, $1,100 for Oakland, $1,375 for Michigan Tech, $1,250 for Michigan State, $1,375 for Wayne and $1,675 for Michigan.

The current year's budget of $144.6 million broke down into these per - student averages: Central $895, Eastern $785, Northern $662, Western $702, Ferris $699, Michigan Tech $1,228, Grand Valley $1,724, Oakland, $968, MSU $1,089, Wayne $1,223 and Michigan $1,579.

The Senate committee also unveiled its spending proposals for junior colleges, the State Department of Education, all state building projects, mental health and public health.

Keep Romney Figures

For the two-year schools it proposed $16.7 million, compared with $15.1 million suggested by Romney.

It also proposed removing power from the State Board of Education to grant money for building projects at the two-year schools.

Mowery Leaves Peninsula Job

Dr. Albert S. Mowery of Marquette, director of Michigan State University's Upper Peninsula Extension Service center and regional director of the Continuing Education service, has been appointed director of the MSU Continuing Education Center at Benton Harbor.

Mowery will assume his new duties Monday. James Gooch of Marquette, coordinator of Continuing Education and communications specialist, will take over as Continuing Education director. No successor has been named to the U. P. Extension Service job.

The two position held jointly by Mowery will be divided under new MSU plans.

Mowery will replace Dr. Harold E. Gray in Benton Harbor. Gray, head of the Benton Harbor center for the past 9 years, has been named director of university technical services at East Lansing.

"I think generally, judging from the job I have done in the Upper Peninsula of directing the operations of both continuing education and Cooperative Extension, that he can certainly do a job in southwestern Michigan," Gray said of Mowery.

Mowery, 50, is the author of a high school and college vocational agriculture text and numerous technical articles. He also has many years of experience in the plywood industry, a hitch at university-level teaching and has done work leading to the development of agricultural equipment.

A native of Pennsylvania, Mowery holds bachelor, master and doctoral degrees from Penn State University. He taught vo-

He worked 10 years for the Douglas Fir Plywood association and the U. S. Plywood Corp. Mowery said his philosophy for Benton Harbor is "keeping the ball rolling" on outstanding established programs while continuing to look for means of improvement.

Counties Bill Has Preliminary OK

LANSING (AP) — The Senate gave preliminary approval Wednesday to one man-one vote districts for county boards of supervisors, keeping alive chances that supervisors might be elected from new districts next November.

In a compromise with Republicans, majority Democrats agreed to allow the boards of supervisors in counties under 370,000 population 30 days in which to do their own redistricting. This would apply to all but Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Genesee counties.

In the large counties, and after 30 days in the smaller counties, districts would be drawn by a commission composed of the county treasurer, clerk, prosecutor, chairman of the board of supervisors and senior probate judge.

Senate Majority Leader Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, said Democrats would accept a Republican proposal to include a section banning districting plans intended to give either party an advantage.

Senators Have Mixed Feelings In Saigon Mess

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many senators disagree on whether the political situation in South Viet Nam may force the United States to pull out of the war.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., told his colleagues Wednesday that if the South Vietnamese don't want to continue the war "it's obvious the United States should not do it for them."

Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, felt that the possible fall of Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime may force a reassessment which could end with American withdrawal.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., expressed belief at a New York news conference that "intensified military action north of the 17th Parallel is not going to be a substitute for the right kind of political action south of the 17th Parallel, in South Viet Nam."

He obviously was alluding to the B52 bomber raid on a North Vietnamese mountain pass.

Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., back from a six-day visit to Saigon, predicted Ky's government "can survive if it moves carefully."

In the same vein, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen told reporters that the Buddhist-inspired turmoil may look more serious in Washington than in Saigon.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., said in an interview he could see down the road the possibility that a new civilian government might bring about negotiations with the Viet Cong that would end the fighting, even though the terms might not be acceptable to the United States.

Cooper, former ambassador to India, said the political unrest poses serious military, as well as diplomatic, problems. He said the struggle will withdraw Vietnamese units from battle and make it more difficult for Americans to defend themselves from such attacks as that of the Viet Cong on Saigon's airport.

No Youth Corps Funds Coming, College Advised

A Neighborhood Youth Corps project sponsored by Bay de Noc Community College for the Delta, Schoolcraft and Menominee counties will not be operative this year for lack of federal funds, the College has been advised.

Louis A. Cordona, acting regional director of the U. S. Department of Labor Neighborhood Youth Corps, reported to Richard Rinehart, Bay College president:

"For some time now the Neighborhood Youth Corps has been attempting to ascertain whether funds might be found which would enable our project to get into operation this fiscal year."

"I regret to advise you that funds have been exhausted on a nationwide basis, and it will not be possible to move ahead with this project this fiscal year," Cordona wrote.

The Youth Corps program for the three counties would have called for a total expenditure of $110,000 of which $98,000 would have been in federal funds and the remainder local participation.

One hundred and one young persons 16 to 21 years of age would have benefited from the program. Of the total to be employed on the project, 68 were to be boys and 33 girls. The program was to have begun this spring and continue for 40 weeks.

College President Rinehart, commenting on the loss of the project due to the lack of funding, said:

"Recent research by the Michigan Conservation Department indicated that Neighborhood Youth Corps programs were more effective than Job Corps programs in helping the poor youth. I am disappointed that this assistance will not be made available to the youth of Merominee, Delta and Schoolcraft counties, who need such assistance to stay in school and improve their employability."

The project application has been held without decision by federal authorities for five months.

How're We Doing?

One of the most acute judgments on the Upper Peninsula's ability to change and prosper is its success in coping with the agricultural revolution.

The changes in farming are being watched for more than their impact on the economy and on society. They are regarded by some scientists as the result of the first massive application of knowledge to an ancient occupation—farming. The wonder is now whether the same technique can cause comparable changes in other parts of the economy.

The agricultural colleges and the Extension Service, the school vocational agriculture courses, the fieldmen of the farm supply industries, the experiment stations, the immense amount of research and development under governmental and industrial sponsorship, have made America unique in the world in its capacity to grow food.

Russia may have beaten us for a time in the space race by devoting so much of its totalitarian resources to government projects like its space probes, but it has never been able to feed its people with the abundance and the variety that Americans enjoy, nor to make it available for such a relatively small part of personal income.

Our farming's successes, of course, have brought some problems. They made the big, industrialized farms such super-producers of food that they could supply the nation's needs and leave a husky mountain of food for export, with no help from the little farms tended to wither away. They weren't as efficient, of course, because a mechanized farm has got to use its machinery to pay for it and a little farm is a small tractor track.

So we've been in an agricultural revolution. The specialists have survived and enlarged. The farmers who grow only potatoes, or who specialize in dairying, or beef cattle, in berries or trees or mink, have become a go-go group and many of the little farms have drifted into consolidations, recreational use, the Soil Bank, tree farms, government ownership or some other usage outside of agriculture.

The 1964 U.S. Census of Agriculture, whose results have just been reported, tell how we're faring in this revolution. The last previous farm census was in 1959, when Delta County had 612 farms (10 or more acres producing products worth at least $50, or places of less than 10 acres producing at least $250). In 1964 the number had shrunk to 526, a loss of 86 in five years.

That's a dark statistic. We're losing the soil-based part of our economy, at least in the number of operating units. But in the matter of farm income the picture is brighter: Delta rose from $2.5 million to $3.3 million, a gain of $799,244. There's some inflated value in that figure, but still it is impressive as representing a real gain in income despite a loss of one-seventh of our farms.

There are some important indicators in the census report. It showed that fewer than 60 of the 526 farmers had finished high school. It showed that the sale of livestock had reached a total of $2,616,274, an increase of $702,555 over 1959, accounting for most of the agricultural advance, with crops at $688,810 showing a gain of $94,067.

In an automotive, mechanized age there were fewer trucks on the farms when the 5 year period ended than when it started, but more tractors.

The harvested cropland acreage declined, but 327 farmers grew much more oats in less acreage than 380 had grown 5 years before. This was a bright spot in the report and the kind of result which gives reason for hope that the scientific wonders which have destroyed the marginal little family farm can also be the salvation of farming in our area and the means of its survival. But that, of course, requires general application of the knowledge that has made the best farms such standouts.

Cigarette Tax Fiasco

You could build a pretty good argument on the premise that the law often creates more crime than it prevents, especially when it seeks to forbid or restrict or too vigorously milk the "congenial vices" that spring from human nature itself.

Prohibition is the classic example, and the United States is still suffering from the depredations of the hoodlum empires which came into being because of the refusal of millions to abide by this law, no matter how nobly conceived it may have been.

New York's current troubles with its cigarette tax law read like news stories out of old Chicago—trucks hauling in loads of contraband cigarettes, "speakeasy" outlets in gas stations, barber shops, laundries, etc., the Mafia muscling in on independent bootleggers, cries for stiffer enforcement of the law.

A year ago New York City doubled its cigarette tax. Added to the state tax, the total is 14 cents, the highest in the country, and the price of cigarettes (40 to 45 cents a pack) is so far above that of surrounding states that ordinary citizens as well as the fast-buck boys are finding it worth their while to fill up their car trunks across the state line.

On paper, the financially straitened city should be reaping twice as much in cigarette taxes as it did before. Instead, the city and state together will lose an estimated $30 to $50 million this fiscal year. Any increase in the number of tax law enforcers—the state commissioner wants them doubled from 23 to 45—would be a further loss.

Legitimate vendors, too, are said to be losing business to the tune of $11.5 million a month. That, of course, translates into smaller income tax receipts for the city and state.

All of these consequences should have been obvious to the lawmakers.

The outlandish tax is not only failing of its purpose, it has not only opened up another field for organized crime, but it has encouraged a popular disrespect for the law which could work mischievous effects on the whole fabric of society.

Shyness?

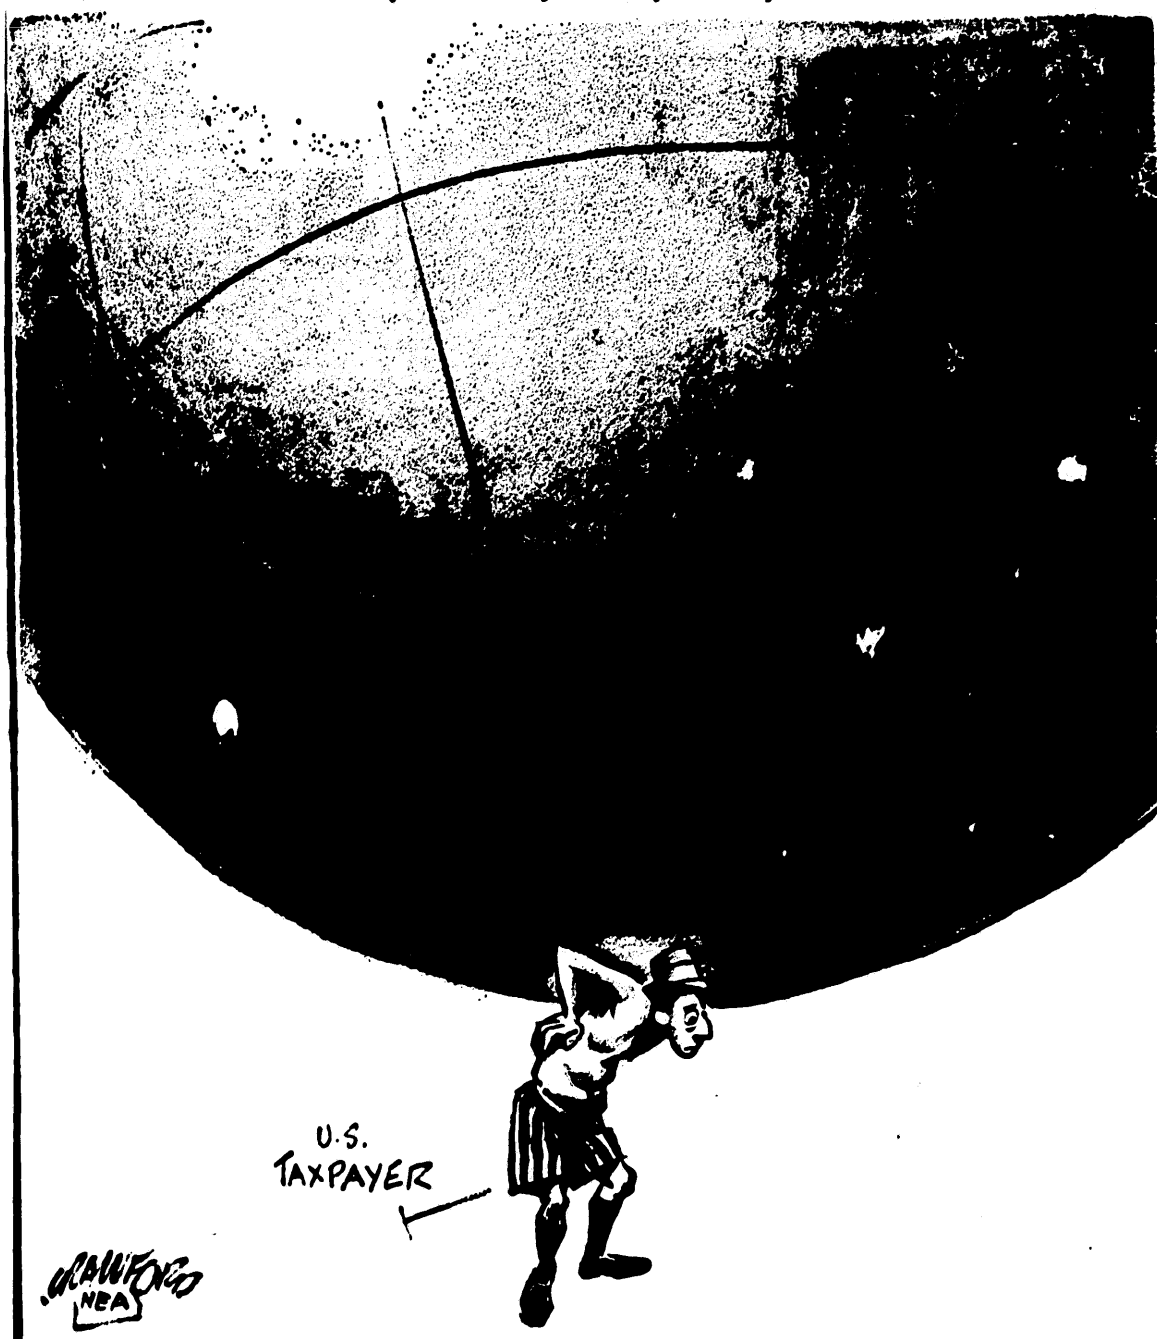

In a recent newspaper discussion of the pros and cons of "educating" children in the "proper use of alcoholic beverages at a very early age — and in the schools —" was this statement:

"Teen-age drinking in America is a sign of growing up, and most students stick to beer because it not only suits their pocketbooks but is just potent enough to overcome any adolescent shyness on dates."

Item: In 1962 alone, illegitimate children born to girls in the 15-19 age group totaled 94,400!

This is adolescent shyness that needs to be emboldened by beer — or anything else?

Dirksen Faces Loss

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The Dirksen amendment, aimed at modifying the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote state reapportionment rule, may well be in its dying phase.

Realistic nose-counters say the measure is unlikely to muster any more support in the Senate than it drew last summer, when it fell seven votes short of the two-thirds needed for a constitutional amendment.

If the author and chief sponsor, Republican Senator Everett Dirksen of Illinois, holds majority leader Mike Mansfield to his agreement, the proposal could come up for debate soon after the Senate's Easter recess.

Adversaries of the amendment say they welcome an early vote and will not filibuster. Dirksen forces suggest debate might last no more than three days.

Contrary to published account, Dirksen has no plan to liberalize his proposal further in hope of attracting sufficient additional votes to put it across.

The belief is that any such move would not in fact win converts but would instead reduce the amendment to an empty shell only faintly symbolic of the senator's original intent.

Dirksen already has modified the measure several times without crucial benefit. To soften it again would smack of the absurd.

In the light of onrushing events outside the Senate, the whole effort seems, anyway, like a charade in space.

By election time this November, probably 42 or 43 of the 50 states will have seen their state legislatures either permanently or temporarily reapportioned in both houses in accord with the one-man, one-vote rule.

Right now, 14 states already have sitting legislative bodies thus apportioned. Another 27 states appear certain to elect their legislatures on the one-man, one-vote principle this autumn. Minnesota is definitely destined to join this list, and Missouri, where House apportionment is still before a commission, might also do so.

Of the remaining seven states four are under court order to change their legislatures and are taking action but need not meet a 1966 election deadline.

Two are merely at the court-challenge stage and one, Maine, plans to submit a constitutional amendment altering Senate apportionment to the voters.

By December, then, at least, 42 states will have one-man, one-vote plans in operating effect.

Dirksen's amendment, if somehow it got the necessary two-thirds support in Congress, would have to be ratified by 38 state legislatures. It is difficult to imagine that dozens of legislatures newly weighted toward city-suburban representation would approve an amendment which might open the way to restoration of the old rural domination.

The evidence suggests that the Dirksen forces are playing out a fragile, soon-to-be-shattered illusion. They are taking comfort from a volume of mail much larger than in 1965, stirred apparently by the activities of a "grass roots" pro-amendment lobby called the Committee for Government of the People.

The human and financial sinews of that committee are supplied by business and farm groups which fear the taxing, spending and regulating programs to be expected from urban-oriented state legislatures. But their battle, which Everett Dirksen has made his own, probably was lost long ago. This is the age of big urban numbers and in that test they have already told.

US Buys Meat From Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government plans to seek supplies of beef and pork in Europe to help feed American military men there.

The defense department has disclosed that its procurement officials will work with the Agriculture Department in bargaining American crop surpluses for supplies of European meat.

Such procurement would reduce military demands on American supplies of meat at a time when the administration is interested in bringing down food prices, particularly pork, in an effort to combat inflation.

The government also would utilize the foreign currencies this country has accumulated by selling food surpluses to needy countries under the Food for Peace program. This would save defense dollars not only for the purchase of meats but for their transportation overseas.

Defense Department officials said the amount of meat obtained in Europe would be small compared with total U.S. meat production.

The Doctor Says: New Methods Improve Results

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstad

Q — I had a right-sided hernia repaired in March, 1965, and a recurrence of the hernia in August. This was repaired, but recurred in January of this year. How can I prevent further recurrences?

A — In about 10 per cent of persons who are past 50, the hernia recurs in spite of careful surgery. This is usually because the tissues brought together in the repair are weak and will not hold the stitches. The only precautions against getting a recurrence are to avoid heavy lifting, coughing and straining at stool.

Surgery is the only satisfactory treatment for a hernia of the groin. Improved results are now being reported with the use of a tantalum or plastic mesh to reinforce the body's own tissues or reinforcement with a strong fascia taken from another part of the body.

Q — My doctor has prescribed Librium for my nerves. Can a person take this drug daily without getting any bad effects?

A — Chlordiazepoxide (Librium) is a minor tranquilizer. Taken in too large a dose, it will cause drowsiness or even fainting.

Skin rash, nausea and headache have also been reported. Persons who take it for a prolonged period should have regular blood cell counts and liver function tests. When the Q — What term is used to describe supersonic speed?

Man Asks Divorce But Doesn't Want It

Dear Ann Landers: Three months ago my husband brought a trampy-looking girl to the house, introduced her as the woman he wanted to marry and asked for a divorce. I managed to keep my composure although I thought I would die right then and there. I agreed to a divorce and they left.

The next day my husband came for his clothes, kissed the children goodbye and said I'd be hearing from his lawyer. I received no call.

In a week my husband was back—furious. He said I had let him down. He was shocked that I agreed to the divorce. He insists he gave me all sorts of signals to say "No" in front of the girl. Now he is begging to come home. He promises never to fail me again.

The children love their dad and need him, but I can't get over the hurt and humiliation. If he could do such a terrible thing once, why couldn't he do it again? I need your counsel. —NOT RECOVERED

Dear Not: Your husband sounds like a four-door, brass-plated heel, but give him another chance.

And let this be a lesson to you, students. Men, like children, don't want everything they ask for.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a high school junior who thinks there must be something drastically wrong with me. I am so envious of everyone I can hardly stand it. Although I get good grades and have won many honors I still get green when something good happens to my friends.

Yesterday my best friend won an essay contest. I could not have won it because I did not even enter but when I heard she had won I was awfully unhappy. Naturally, I put on a false face and told her I was thrilled.

Why can't I be gracious and really rejoice when other people get honors? —HATE MYSELF

Dear Friend: Maybe you hate yourself, but I like you because you are honest.

Each of us is our own first choice for everything good that happens. This is normal but it's not realistic—because life doesn't work that way. Nobody can win everything all the time.

It will help you feel less guilty if you tone down the compliments when you are congratulating the others. Be pleasant but don't go into

Hope Show Less Than Enchanting

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Hope is such a fine generous man and associated with such good causes that it almost seems ungrateful to be less than enchanted with any of his television programs.

But the truth is that sometimes — and Wednesday night was one of them — the "Bob Hope Comedy Specials" on NBC are not terribly amusing and seem to have been tossed together as casually as a salad.

The program Wednesday night was taped for broadcast four weeks ago but that was the night when the TV networks devoted the entire evening to covering the Gemini 8 splash-down and the recovery of the astronauts.

Hope's opening monologue, usually the brightest part of the show, is so current and topical that the original one was discarded and a new one substituted.

Favorite subject of Hope sketches over the years seems to be a burlesque of a current movie or television show. Wednesday night there was a comedy sequence based on a movie, "The Magnificent Seven" and called "The Putrid Six." This involved a lot of slapstick gun play between Hope, playing a Mexican bandit, and Lee Marvin as a bounty hunter. This may have been mighty funny to those who have seen the movie but it was pretty well lost on those of us who had not.

"I Spy," NBC's jaunty secret agent series, has been renewed for another season, which it certainly deserves for it is one of the seasons better entertainment efforts. It concerned itself with brainwashing and hypnosis Wednesday night, and the opening portion of the show contained a long and most unpleasant sequence in which good agent Robert Culp was tortured and beaten by a bad enemy scientist. For the rest of the show he staggered around like a drugged man trying to kill his fellow agent, Bill Cosby.

Despite the sophisticated dialogue and the slick production of the show, the big climax came in a very familiar television setting — the deserted warehouse.

Doctor Claims Hypertension Speeds Aging

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — A University of Michigan physician said Thursday that heavy exercise is not as hard on folk with high blood pressure—from which some 17 million American suffer—as has long been thought.

However, he said the question still remains whether such people can safely do heavy exercise for years.

This was among reports on widely varied subjects presented to the 50th convention of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

Dr. James Conway reported on the exercise-and-high blood pressure research.

He said: "Hypertension is a handicap when it comes to exercise, but it's not a severe one. We were struck by the fact that the hypertensive does as well as he does. He simply has to put out only a little effort to do just as much work as the normal person."

However, while saying that exercise produces only a small rise in blood pressure in such patients, he declared that where as a normal man's blood pressure will rise a little on exercise as he grows older, hypertensive patients experience such a rise at younger ages. Thus, he indicated, high blood pressure accelerates some aspects of the aging process.

Canarygrass Is For Wet Pasture

Farmers with wet, lowland areas may find Reed Canarygrass will provide summer pasture for livestock when rainfall is limited. The crop makes good use of farm land which, in the past, has been considered wasteland because it was too wet. J. L. Heirman, Delta County agricultural agent, says information is available in Extension Bulletin E-517 from the Delta County Extension Office, County Building, Escanaba.

Chair Competes

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—An office chair with sculptured lines, produced by Steelcase, Inc., of Grand Rapids, was selected Wednesday as Kent County's product of the year for Michigan Week competition. It will be judged April 26 with other products from a five-county region for the right to seek the state title.

Garbage Train To Cut Costs

DETROIT (AP) — The town fathers of suburban Ferndale appear to be bidding for the title of "Garbage Collection Innovators of the Year."

Last month they introduced clear plastic bags for homeowners to put their garbage in and tote to the curb.

Some homeowners were aghast at the thought of displaying the evidence of gracious suburban living — like liquor bottles—for all to see.

Apparently they got over it, though. Now the city has come up with the idea of using a train—that's right, a train—instead of a truck to pick up the plastic bags.

City officials this week approved taking bids on the wheeled trains. Roy F. Goodspeed, director of public works, said the trains consist of a garbage tender truck and three trailer units of four cars each. "If it works we'll get more," he said. "We figure it's cheaper in time and manpower. A train will use two men instead of three like now and they'll spend less time picking up garbage with one driving and the other picking up."

He said he felt the trains and the plastic bags would help greatly in reducing the $250,000 Ferndale spends each year on garbage collections.

He said introduction of the plastic bags earlier this year already had resulted in savings.

"Some of the citizens were sort of apprehensive about putting their garbage in clear bags at first but they've pretty well gotten over that," Goodspeed said.

Goodspeed said the bags currently were being given out free by the city but that when the experiment was over "we plan to have the people buy them at cost."

Oxygen was discovered by Joseph Priestley.

Church Featured In Two Articles

ANN ARBOR — Michael P. (Mike) Church, art lecturer and cultural activities specialist with the University of Michigan Extension Service, is subject of a profile to be published in May issues of The Rotarian and Reader's Digest magazines.

Once a railroad workman, Church today is a Michigan "Evangelist of Art." He travels thousands of miles each year, going from one end of the state to the other to meet with local artists, speak to their clubs, help them to raise funds for meeting places and shows, and to encourage artists and help them with their work.

'World Wheat' Is For Hungry Asia's Millions

NEW YORK (AP) — A new process which developers say could make wheat palatable to Asia's rice-eating millions — and thus be a partial answer to famine — will be tested in a pilot project beginning this week in Hong Kong.

Wheat kernels are peeled by a lyse process that makes them look like rice and cook like rice. The purpose of the project is to see whether Asians decide that it tastes like rice.

One of the biggest roadblocks to easing world famine, experts say, is that some people would rather die than change their eating habits.

Millions of the rice-eating people in India's Kerala State live on the verge of starvation rather than eat the wheat flowing into their country. Rioting mobs shouted at police: "Give us rice or shoot us!"

Breaking down "food prejudices" is necessary so that people can be fed the food that is available, says Melvin B. Myers, director of the material resources program of the Church World Service, sponsors of the pilot project.

Many millions of other Asians besides the Keralites are rice eaters and have been reluctant to use what, he said in an interview today.

"At one time the children of Hong Kong and Japan couldn't stand milk. They didn't know what it was," said Myers. "Now they drink it all the time."

"Suppose the United States was suddenly faced with a famine. Do you think the people would eat grubs or ants or drink blood before they would starve? Yet, these are the staples of some people."

On her recent visit to the United States Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi said: "People facing famine can still make it a principle not to eat wheat when they are used to eating rice."

The United States is sending 3.5 million tons of wheat to India to combat the drought-caused famine there.

To make wheat more acceptable to the rice-eating Keralites, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has come up with the new process to make a rice-like grain from regular wheat, called "World Wheat."

Sound Advice

Never use drugs left over from a serious illness for self-treatment of a similar ailment. You see, modern drugs are highly potent—that's why we dispense them only when your physician prescribes. If you dose yourself with leftovers, you may do serious damage. It's a good idea to pour the remains of old prescriptions down the drain and destroy the bottles.

Training Begun By Guardsmen

After a two week vacation, all guardsmen of Company E will begin extensive outdoor training, consisting of construction tasks, map reading, driver training, demolitions and extensive rifle range instruction and firing. All of the bridge units training will now be conducted on weekends, using the federal property west of the Gladstone Golf club area.

Company E will construct an infantry assault course, which will combine physical fitness, with infantry tactics. Sgt. Ivan Gagne of Powers will be construction supervisor on the assault course and Sgt. William Buchholz, Escanaba, will supervise all range improvements. The unit will also begin using its mobile equipment, with practice in military convoy procedures.

Capt. George C. Anderson, unit commander, said at the present time his unit has reached its full authorized strength of 80 enlisted men, but with some future transfers, there will be vacancies for about three men very soon. This year the bridge unit will depart for field training at Camp Grayling on June 18, a few weeks earlier than in the past.

Capt. Anderson said that with the formation of an additional bridge platoon in the unit some changes and promotions in personnel have been made. Sgt. Ivan Gagne, Powers, will be platoon sergeant of the new platoon, with Sgt. John Sorault, Escanaba, and SP4 Richard Collins of Wells as his section leaders. Each section leader has 12 men under his command for supervision and training.

In the first bridge platoon Sgt. William Buchholz, Escanaba, will be platoon leader, with Sgt. Gilbert Helgemo, Gladstone, and SP4 Robert Pepin, Escanaba as his section leaders. Regular training will begin with a weekend assembly on April 16 and 17.

Being A Genius, Hardly Worth It

By PHIL THOMAS
DETROIT (AP)—I found out today I was a genius. But I don't know if it was worth the trouble. There's a lot of evidence I'm really not very smart at all.

A form letter from MENSA said I'd passed its final intelligence test and was eligible for membership in the society. MENSA, which means "table" in Latin, was organized in England in 1945 as a means of bringing together intelligent people.

It's a pretty exclusive club. Only an estimated two per cent of the world's population is eligible for membership. You've got to take two separate intelligence tests and pass both to get admitted. On each test you've got to make a score "higher than 98 per cent of the population in general."

Auto Sale Dip Of Little Concern

DETROIT (AP)—Auto sales slowed up a bit in the opening 10 days of April but nobody in the industry seemed particularly concerned about the drop.

Preliminary sales reports for the April 1-10 period put sales at 200,494 units compared with 245,917 in the comparable period a year ago.

The big difference appeared to be that there were only eight selling days in the period this time, compared with nine a year ago.

On a daily selling rate, new cars sold at a 25,062-a-day clip in early April compared with 27,324 a year ago.

All four auto companies ran behind their sales pace for April 1-10, 1965. Ford's Lincoln Continental was the only car line with sales better than a year ago, the figure this time being 960 compared with 832 a year ago.

Among reasons advanced for the sales drop were the Easter holidays, the railroad strike which cut into car shipments and the fact that some dealer sales contests ended in late March.

Briefly Told

State Police issued traffic tickets Wednesday to James Valiquette, 1419 N. 16th St., Escanaba, speeding; Carol J. Spaude, Menominee, failure to stop for stop sign; Raymond Burton, Alpena, no valid registration plates on semi-tractor; James Carlson, 1427 Delta Ave., Gladstone, speeding; David Lamberg, 505 N. 11th St., Gladstone, excessive noise.

THESE ARE voiceprints of two persons saying the word "You." The inventor of voiceprints, physicist Lawrence G. Kersta, 58, went into court in New York's suburban Westchester County Tuesday to explain how they work. Judge Robert Dempsey in White Plains on Monday for the first time in a criminal case ruled the new form of identification could be used by the state in the case of a suspended policeman charged with perjury. Kersta's electronic method converts the voice into these weird-looking picture displays known as spectrographs. They measure the physical characteristics of a voice, each of which is unique, Kersta says. (AP Wirephoto)

Deer Advisers To Total 280

LANSING (AP)—The small army of citizen advisers on deer shooting policy will be upped from 200 to 280, the State Conservation Department reports.

The department said the additions are being made because of an "overwhelming response" to its program to promote greater public participation in deer management.

The Conservation Commission turned to the citizen committee approach after receiving criticism of deer policy from hunters disappointed at the reduced kill last shooting season. Some said too many does and fawns were being shot. One bill introduced in the Legislature called for a two-year ban on antlerless deer shooting.

The Conservation Commission appointed 15 members each to the eight committees for the state's northern districts. Ten more selections to each committee will be made by the Legislature.

The commission now will appoint six additional members and the Legislature four more to each of the eight committees. There have been some 1,200 applicants for committee posts since the new policy was announced.

House Members Question Plans To Close Bases

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Armed Services subcommittee said Wednesday it "seriously questions" Defense Department plans to close 149 military bases, including Kincheloe AFB near Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara announced plans for the closings last December. The congressional group has been investigating those plans. The subcommittee said it "seriously questions the wisdom of proceeding with any significant base closures or reductions during this critical period of increasing demand on our armed forces, particularly with an unpredictable and growing conflict in Southeast Asia."

Zambia Copper Miners At Work

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP)—Zambia's huge copper industry swung back into full production Wednesday following the return to work of almost all the 35,000 African miners who had been on strike for more than two weeks.

A spokesman for the two copper mining companies, the Roan Selection Trust and the Anglo American Corporation, reported a 95 per cent turnout. The strike, which cost this country more than $19.6 million and sent the free market price of copper rocketing, was over wage differences between black and white mine employees.

A commission of inquiry appointed by President Kenneth Kaunda to probe grievances was expected to start hearing evidence this week.

DO YOU TAKE VITAMINS AND STILL FEEL TIRED?

Here's How To Feel Stronger Fast

Have you been feeling tired and rundown lately? And do you take vitamins yet still feel tired? If so, your trouble may be due to iron-poor, tired blood. Vitamins alone can't build up iron-poor blood. But GERITOL can! That's because just 2 GERITOL tablets, or 2 table-spoons of GERITOL liquid contain 7 vitamins plus twice the blood-building iron in a whole pound of calves' liver. In only one day GERITOL-iron is in your bloodstream carrying strength and energy to every part of your body. Check with your doctor, and if iron-poor blood is making you feel tired, take GERITOL, liquid or tablets, every day. Feel stronger fast—in 7 days—or money back from GERITOL. *Due to iron-poor blood

DETROIT (AP)—The board of directors of Ford Motor Co. has declared a first quarter dividend of 60 cents a share, payable June 1 to stockholders of record April 28.

It was the same amount paid in the fourth quarter of 1965 and was 10 cents ahead of the dividend paid in the first quarter last year.

Miss Osterhout was assessed $4.30 costs. The Gilbert and Gerald Baker convictions are being appealed to Circuit Court and both have posted bonds of $100.

Gilbert Baker, on probation from an assault case, was also sentenced to 30 days in jail for probation violation and Gerald Baker, on probation for being a minor in possession of beer was sentenced to 30 days in jail and assessed $75 fine.

The four stood mute and through counsel asked jury trial when arraigned March 29. Jack Jenerou, 25, charged with discharging a rifle in city (in the air while the young people were near his home) was assessed fine of $10 and costs of $4.30 in a separate Justice Court action.

Judge Says Braves Must Return, Or Else

May 16 Is Deadline For Expansion Plan

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The National League faced the threat today of a forced uprooting from its potentially rich new territory in Atlanta unless it bowed to a Wisconsin court order and restored baseball to Milwaukee.

The ruling by Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller Wednesday night struck at the protective coating that has shielded baseball from anti-trust laws since 1922 and left the young 1966 season under long legal shadows.

Roller, 61, found the Atlanta Braves and the National League in violation of Wisconsin anti-trust law for nullifying the Braves out of Milwaukee while refusing to grant the city a replacement team.

The judge said the Braves must return to Milwaukee, their home from 1953 through 1965. If the league fails to submit by noon May 16 a 1967 expansion plan that would include Milwaukee.

Baseball's reaction to the ruling, which climaxed a 38-day trial, was cautious.

A spokesman for Commissioner William Eckert issued a statement saying baseball intended to file an immediate appeal to the Wisconsin Supreme Court.

Later, Eckert telephoned The Associated Press and asked that the statement be withdrawn. "I have no comment now," Eckert said. "I will take it under advisement."

Walter O'Malley, president of the Los Angeles Dodgers, said, "It seems to be utterly impossible to comply with the court's decision, but we'll be guided by the attorneys who have represented us in the litigation."

Wisconsin officials were delighted by Roller's decision, which gave the state precisely what it had sought.

Not only did Roller order the Braves' return in the absence of expansion agreement but he assessed the National League and its 10 members fines of $5,000 each.

The judge also ruled that the state is entitled to "costs and disbursements." State costs in the case could run into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Atty. Gen. Bronson LaFollette hailed the decision and said Wisconsin "will have the benefit of a major league franchise operating in full compliance with the laws of this state."

LaFollette did not say how this would be done, nor did William S. Stafford, chief counsel for the state in the case.

But Wisconsin is expected to seek contempt citations against the defendants should baseball ignore the May 16th deadline.

Contempt machinery would allow Wisconsin to seek support of states with National League teams in enforcing Roller's order.

Should even one of eight such states agree to comply, the National League schedule could be in shambles.

"The next move is up to baseball," said Stafford, who stalked the courthouse corridors through a nerve-racking day of waiting Wednesday. "If they can live with it, so can we," he said.

Roller, who worked 37 consecutive hours to put the final judgment in shape, said the delay in completing the 176-page document Wednesday was significant.

The judge would not elaborate on what he meant by significant but said settlement offers had been received both "before and during" the trial which ended April 6.

"All I can say is that there was discussion but no consummation," Roller said.

The judge said no baseball officials had contacted him recently to discuss a possible solution to the legal tangle.

FRANK NAGY, 42, who has a half-million bubble gum and cereal box cards stored in the basement of his west side Detroit home, is shown with some of his collector's items. He has given away 400 pounds of bubble gum and 300 pounds of cereal. "I don't like the cereal and I don't like bubble gum," Nagy said. "It's the cards that come with them that I like." His prize is a card of baseball great Honus Wagner, which he estimated he could sell for at least $400. (AP Wirephoto)

Baltimore Doing Robinson Rock, Hurlers Hurting

By The Associated Press
Baltimore is doing the Robinson Rock, a swinging new step that could make a lot of American League pitchers look like monkeys before this season is over.

It's really a simple step. First Frank Robinson works over an opposing pitcher. If the hurler still shows any signs of fight, Brooks Robinson steps in and finishes the job.

The Robinson boys continued their steady tattoo against the Boston Red Sox Wednesday as the Orioles completed a two-game sweep 8-1. In the only other American League game played, Minnesota used an eighth inning home run by Tony Oliva to get past Kansas City 5-3.

Rain and cold weather postponed Cleveland's game at Washington and Detroit's date at New York.

In the National League, Houston edged Los Angeles 7-6. Pittsburgh whipped Atlanta 6-0. San Francisco defeated Chicago 4-0 and Philadelphia nipped St. Louis 3-2 in 12 innings.

The Robinsons practiced their thunder and lightning routine on Dave Morehead after the Red Sox starter had struck out the first two batters he faced. Then Frank pounded his second homer of the season and Brooks followed with his No. 2.

That was enough for Jim Palmer, who limited the Red Sox to five hits and walked a two-run homer of his own in the second. Paul Blair ripped a bases-loaded double for three more runs in the eighth.

The homers brought the Robinsons' two-day haul in Fenway Park to a combined 7-for-18 including four homers and six runs batted in.

Minnesota was trailing Kansas City 3-2 with Athletics' rookie Paul Lindblad working on four shutout innings of relief in the eighth when the Twins rallied.

With two out, Zoilo Versalles singled and moved up on Sandy Valdespino's hit. Then Oliva walked his first homer into the bullpen in right center field, 420 feet away.

Valdespino had connected with a mate aboard for Minnesota's first two runs in the first inning.

Kansas City had taken advantage of some shoddy Minnesota fielding for two runs against starter Camilo Pascual in the fourth. Ken Harrelson singled and came all the way around on Ed Charles' hit when Harmon Killebrew let a throw from the outfield skip past him. Charles then stole third and scored when Earl Battey's throw went into left field.

Four Lettermen At Rapid River

RAPID RIVER — Coach Bernie Olson has only four lettermen among his 31 track and field athletes this season.

The Rockets are an annual power in Central League track circles, winning the league meet with monotonous regularity. Last year they were dethroned in the regional meet by Garden, however.

Baseball's defense was built around a 1922 Supreme Court decision that found the game was not involved in interstate commerce and hence not subject to regulations, such as anti-trust statutes, that govern business.

But in his decision, Judge Roller found that the league and its members had "combined and conspired among themselves to monopolize the business of major league professional baseball with in the state of Wisconsin."

Indoor Meet Set Saturday

MARQUETTE — More than 400 Upper Peninsula high school athletes will compete in the 7th Annual Northern Michigan University Inter-scholastic Indoor Relays Saturday, April 16, at the C. B. Hedgecock Fieldhouse.

Meet director F. L. "Frosty" Ferzacca said the 1966 entry list is slightly lower than past years, partly because of a one week postponement of the event.

By mid-week, Class A-B entries had been received from Calumet, Escanaba, Gladstone, Iron Mountain, Ironwood, Manistiquette, Marquette, Menominee, Munising and Rudyard. The Class C entries include Crystal Falls, Hancock, L'Anse-au-Loup, Bishop Baraga, Stephenson and Wakefield, while Class D entries have been received from Champion, Channing, Ironwood St. Ambrose, National Mine, Pickford and Republic.

Ferzacca said several more schools have indicated they will participate, but entries have been delayed because of Easter holidays.

The meet is scheduled to open at 9 a.m. EST with trials and finals in the broad jump and shot put in all three classes (A-B, C and D). Preliminaries in the 65 yard high hurdles, 60 yard dash and 65 yard low hurdles in all classes will also be run in the morning.

Afternoon events will begin at 12:30 p.m. with trials and finals in the high jump and pole vault. Running events will start at 1 p.m. The mile, half mile, four lap relay and eight lap relay will be run in sections, while the hurdles and dash events will be broken into semi-finals and finals. The meet is expected to end at 4:30 p.m. EST.

MEET NOTES
Nine records were set in 1965, including two in Class A-B, four in Class C and three in Class D.

Four records set in 1960, the first year the meet was run, still stand. They include Larry Farley's (Escanaba Holy Name) time of :06.6 in the Class A-B 60 yard dash; two marks set by Terry Gavan (Gwin) in Class C of 5'11 3/4" in the high jump and 21'3 3/4" in the broad jump; and the mark of 11'6" in the Class D pole vault set by Tom Harrison (Pickford).

Only two Peninsula athletes hold more than one indoor prep mark at NMU's C. B. Hedgecock Fieldhouse. Terry Gavan (Gwin) has the Class C marks in the broad jump (21'3 3/4") and the high jump (5'11 3/4"), both set in 1960, and John LeVallee (Garden) holds the Class D standards in the high jump (6'1 1/2") and mile run (4:40.2), established in 1962.

Pickford athletes hold more NMU indoor records (six) than any other schools. The Panthers own the Class D records in the shot put, pole vault, 60 yard dash, half mile, and both relay events. Wakefield has four Class C marks and Gwin owns three records, two in Class C and one in Class B.

Michigan Grid Drills To End

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's spring football drills will come to a close with the annual Blue-White intrasquad game Saturday and Coach Bump Elliott feels one of the team's major strengths will be in line-backing.

The Wolverines, who started drills March 14, have been blessed with near-perfect weather for their drills. Only two practice sessions were held indoors.

"We've made progress, and while there's still lots of work to be done. We know we have a group that's willing to work and to hit hard," Elliott said.

Linebackers Frank Nunley, Paul Derrano and Dennis Morgan, who will be joined in the fall by Barry Dehlin — now recuperating from a knee injury, form the nucleus of the defensive platoon.

Freshmen Tom Stuncic and Jon Kramer and junior Terry Salimi, a converted quarterback, give the Wolverines added strength at defensive end. Elliott said.

Dick Vidmer appears to be the top candidate at quarterback, but Elliott feels he will have to develop a few players to back him up.

"I was disgusted after we lost Sunday," he said, "but I thought we played well in this game. We made the Hawks take the shots we wanted them to take, but they hit them. They're not usually an outcourt shooting team."

"I told my boys at the quarter and again at the half that the Lakers are shooting the heck out of the basket, but couldn't keep that up," Guerri said. His club managed a 36-36 first quarter tie and a 69-68 halftime lead, although the Lakers shot better than 60 per cent and the Hawks "only" 56 per cent.

The torrid pace continued in the third period with the Hawks still ahead by one, but Guerri proved a prophet in the final period. The Lakers cooled off enough for the Hawks to go on a 17-2 spree behind Zelmo Beatty and Joe Caldwell that gave them a 126-114 lead. The Lakers couldn't catch up in spite of Jerry West's efforts.

Elliott himself hit 13 of 22 shots for 29 points, only outdone by West's 14 of 25 for 38 markers.

Laker Coach Fred Schaus agreed.

In This Corner

with Roy Crandall

Bill Rademacher, new track coach at Iron River High School, has only five lettermen among his 56 team candidates this spring. A dozen letter winners from last year's squad were lost through graduation and three seniors dropped the sport this season. The Redskins finished seventh in the U.P. Class A-B finals at Houghton last spring. Rademacher is a former Menominee athlete who starred in football at Northern Michigan University and has played professional football with the New York Jets of the AFL the past two seasons.

Dave Friets, Classic League pin artist, came within a whisker of a national honor count this week at the Bowl-a-rama when he slugged a 699 series to lead his Skradski's Bar team to a 2993 total. Friets needed a double in the final frame of his third game, got it, then on his last pitch the ball came out wide and left four pins. Another alley operator, Harold Kruse, came up with another big series by spilling 665 this week, after a 677 blast last week.

Joe Baluba of Ironwood set an all time Gogebic Range league bowling record this week when he carved a tremendous 755 series in the Classic League at the Ironwood Sport Bowl. The previous record was a 734 chalked up by Ted Eliason of Wakefield in the late 1930s. Baluba rattled the wood with games of 266, 258 and 231. He is a veteran maple mauler who reached a career high two years ago when he topped the 700 figure four times in league play.

Gildo Canale, athletic trainer at Northern Michigan university and one of the most active basketball and football officials in the U.P., was the speaker at the annual Hancock High School athletic banquet. Special honors were accorded most valuable athletes in all sports—Bob Gemignani in football, Robert Klingbell in basketball, Howard Richards and Ruth Nordstrom in skiing. Hancock's basketball team won the Copper Country Conference championship this season.

Five teams have entered the Iron Mountain Intercity Softball league this season. Set for the season opener on May 23 are Florence Catterbox, C&R Bar, Jacobs Motors, Iron & Steel and Credit Union teams. Andy Anderson has been named to handle publicity duties for the league.

National League Also Pays Fine And Court Cost

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Baseball today faced a May 16 deadline set by a Circuit Court judge who says either Milwaukee must get a new team for 1967 by that date or the Braves must return to Wisconsin.

Judge Elmer W. Roller ruled Wednesday night that the National League had violated Wisconsin's anti-trust laws by allowing the Braves to move to Atlanta.

Calvin Griffith, owner of the Minnesota Twins, said "there are so many facets to this thing, that it's pretty hard to say this is the end of it. It most likely will finally end up in the United States Supreme Court."

Judge Roller's decision called "the refusal of the National League and the failure of the American League to issue a franchise to Milwaukee County."

Most baseball executives greeted the decision with a "No comment," but Los Angeles Dodger owner Walter O'Malley was quoted by the Milwaukee Sentinel as saying: "It seems utterly impossible to comply with the court's decision."

The suit, brought by Wisconsin under the state's so-called longtime Sherman Act, had attracted nationwide attention because it challenged baseball's longtime immunity from anti-trust legislation.

Baseball's defense was built around a 1922 Supreme Court decision that found the game was not involved in interstate commerce and hence not subject to regulations, such as anti-trust statutes, that govern business.

But in his decision, Judge Roller found that the league and its members had "combined and conspired among themselves to monopolize the business of major league professional baseball with in the state of Wisconsin."

Cage Playoffs Tied As Hawks Win Third

ST. LOUIS (AP) — If there were any disappointed St. Louis Hawks after Wednesday night's rousing 131-127 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers, it probably was Bill Bridges. He kept moaning about the rebound shortage. "I can't believe I got only 11," he said.

But the way the Western Division Basketball Association heated up the reason was clear. Almost everything that went up, went in.

To prolong the best-of-seven series to a seventh game, the Hawks had to overcome the Lakers' 50.5 per cent shooting from the field with 52.5 per cent of their own. Their shooting forced the teams' return to Los Angeles for the deciding game Friday night. The winner will meet the Boston Celtics for the NBA title.

"There weren't many baskets given away," said Hawks' Coach Richie Guerin, who hit eight of 16 himself, "although you wouldn't think so from the score."

Laker Coach Fred Schaus agreed.

Court Reform To Merge JPs, Municipal Bench

Michigan's State Supreme Court justices meeting in Escanaba Wednesday with circuit judges of the Upper Peninsula on court practice reported finding fewer problems here than in circuits downstate.

One of the chief topics of the discussion was the speeding of justice, especially providing the means of quicker preparation of court transcripts (trial records) for appeals.

"The Michigan Constitution," said Chief Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh, "grants the right of appeal, but when a man is in Iowa or Jackson Prison for 24 months before he gets a transcript to start an appeal he's not getting justice."

One of the aids to quicker preparation of transcripts in the state will probably be electronic recording.

Court Costs

Taxation of costs in court cases was another interest in the supreme court's annual conference with Northern Michigan's circuit judges. "Fees are at a very minimum," said Justice Kavanagh. "They have not been changed in more than 30 years. When a litigant wins court costs of $50 and he has spent $5,000 it isn't realistic. We are talking with the trial judges about a more realistic assessment of costs."

The conduct of court bailiffs with juries was also reviewed. Usually the court bailiffs in Northern Michigan are sheriffs or sheriff officers.

"Some juries are being handled by bailiffs who can't be controlled by the courts," said Justice Kavanagh. "We didn't know how prevalent the trouble was until we found that in the northern part of the state new trials are being granted all the time because of what some bailiff told a juror."

Talky Bailiffs

"Closer supervision of bailiffs by the circuit judges is needed. They can use a law clerk for a bailiff if they desire, and have him appointed as a deputy; someone who won't answer jurors' questions improperly. It is natural for a juror to ask a bailiff 'What do you think of it?' and some of the answers they get are so bad that in some areas you can't get a fair trial today.

"There are two courthouses in the state where clerks have got to be moved out of their offices when there is a trial because they can hear what is going on in the jury room. Attorneys can hear what's going on in some of the older courthouses. It can, of course, have a great influence on the trial. An attorney may say: 'They're going to stick us; we'd better up the ante,' or 'We're winning; I'm going to sit tight.'"

Court Progress

Justice Kavanagh said that in its second year the new Michigan Court of Appeals is making its work very much felt by the Supreme Court.

"The Court of Appeals," he said, "has written opinions in 204 cases in the past two years, and we (the Supreme Court) have written 224. They are processing 45 cases a month for 9 months of the year, and will be close to 300 a year. We will drop to about 100 cases. The Court of Appeals will be the final court for about 80 per cent of cases appealed from circuit courts and we can spend more time on getting through the hard cases. They've been so tough they've pretty nearly driven us nuts."

"Another year and we should be integrated and functioning smoothly. With the manpower we have now — 24 additional circuit and recorder's court (Detroit) trial judges have been authorized by the Legislature in the last two years — we should have a real good docket."

Justice Kavanagh said that the Joint Committee on Minor Court Reorganization is studying reform of Michigan's lower

Adventists Take Special Note Of Cancer Month

Members of the Escanaba Seventh-day Adventist Church, 210 S. 23rd St., are this week taking special note of April as Cancer Control Month because of the large number of members of the denomination who are serving as test subjects for a special cancer research project.

The tests, explained Pastor John Erhard of the local church, are purely statistical ones rather than medical, but they are providing valuable information for cancer researchers.

"Since Seventh-day Adventists do not smoke cigarettes, cigars or pipes, many health organizations are interested in comparing Adventists with those who do smoke to see if there is a difference in death statistics," said Pastor Erhard in announcing the church's interest in Cancer Control Month.

"The latest findings, which concern studies done on thousands of Seventh-day Adventists in California, Michigan and the New England states, have recently been published in the scientific journal 'Cancer,'" noted Pastor Erhard.

These findings, according to the local minister, show that Seventh-day Adventists experience only 75 per cent of the deaths from cancer of all types that would be expected when Adventists are compared with the general population.

"Further," Pastor Erhard announced, "in connection with the Cancer Control Month recognition, the local church will have as guest speaker, on Saturday, April 16 at the 9:30 a.m. service, Pastor J. P. Winston, temperance department secretary of the Lake Union area of the Conference of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Pastor Winston will also speak Saturday in the Wilson and Menominee Adventist Churches. The public is invited to attend."

Tax For Parking

JACKSON (AP)—City voters will decide Aug. 2 whether to amend the city charter to allow establishment of special assessment districts in which businesses would be taxed to finance construction of parking facilities. City Commission set the date Wednesday.

Board Selects Ira Polley For Education Post

LANSING (AP)—The State Board of Education, with two of its eight members abstaining, selected Ira Polley Wednesday night as state superintendent of public instruction.

The $30,000-a-year post had been vacant since last July 1, while the board considered nearly 70 applicants.

Polley, 48, is executive director of the Michigan Council of State College Presidents and secretary of the Michigan Coordinating Council for Public Higher Education. Previously, he served as state controller and as a university teacher.

Board members Donald M.D. Thurber and Peter Oppewall abstained from the formal vote. They said additional men with the necessary qualifications easily could have been considered without unduly prolonging the search.

Despite the less than unanimous vote, Polley said he anticipated no difficulties in working with the board. Thurber and Oppewall pledged cooperation.

Earlier, the board had been reported deadlocked 4-4 over whether to appoint Polley or reopen as aligned with Thurber and Oppewall.

Alexander Kloster, former deputy superintendent, has been acting superintendent since Lynn Bartlett, Michigan's last elected superintendent, left last July 1.

The Institute is in preparation for the annual "take over" of city government by the students on May 5.
